

Anti-Bribery Policy

International Certifications values its reputation and is committed to maintaining the highest possible ethical standards in all of its business activities (International Certifications is mainly involved in providing assessment and certification services). It is recognized that the risks from bribery and corruption are of growing concern in many countries across the world.

International Certifications has a clear and concise policy where it stands 100% against any form of bribery and/or corruption.

It is the responsibility of all employees throughout the International Certifications group of companies to prevent all forms of bribery and/or corruption by reporting any detected acts of such behaviour. International Certifications has a whistle blower policy which encourages all staff to report any suspected incidents of bribery in accordance with company procedures. All reported incidents will be handled in a professional and efficient manner.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'D Evans', is positioned above the typed name.

David Evans
Managing Director
International Certifications Limited

Tuesday, March 01, 2011